

During this walk, you'll cross the Clair Matin park and discover a vast panorama of Lake Geneva and its Swiss shoreline, with an orientation table on site.

You'll discover the Maraïche chapel, located in the commune of Neuvecelle, overlooking Lake Geneva at an altitude of 470m. Its location has inspired many painters. It has been a listed monument since 1921. Built in the 12th century by peasant monks from the Abondance abbey, it is dedicated to St André, patron saint of fishermen.

You'll pass by the Palais Lumière in Evian-les-Bains and walk a short stretch of the GR de Pays du Littoral du Léman, or if you prefer, climb aboard the funicular that takes you to the heights of Evian-les-Bains.

STARTING POINT: Gare supérieure du funiculaire

HOW TO GET THERE: Starting point : top of the funicular station (Neuvecelle)

NEUVECELLE

YOUR ROUTE

Departure point: funicular top station.

- 1 Turn left, past the tennis courts, then right at the crossroads, past the Hotel La Verniaz. Opposite the hotel, turn left towards the riding school, then right at the next crossroads.
- 2 Continue straight ahead along the "chemin de Chez Cruz" to the "parc Clair Matin" in Neuvecelle.
- 3 At the orientation table, go down to the right towards "l'oratoire de Chez Duret", turn right, then "le chemin de Chez Duret" and "l'avenue Rouffin". At the next crossroads, turn right onto "Avenue du Flon". The road crosses "le torrent le Forchex" and at the next crossroads, turn left towards "la Chapelle de Maraïche". At the bottom of the chapel, cross the road to go down a path equipped with wooden steps.
- 4 Continue downhill, cross the railway line and, before reaching the RD 1005, turn right along the small cogwheel path to Chemin Redallet. From here, turn left along the lakeshore towards Évian-les-Bains. At the Palais Lumière, cross the departmental road and walk along the left-hand side of this building to go back up with the GR de Pays "Littoral du Léman". Alternative: take the funicular, whose bottom station is behind the Palais Lumière (opposite the Ramuz media library).
- 5 Join "rue Nationale", go up through the "passage des bonbonnes" and at the top of the staircase turn left into "impasse des Terreaux", at the top turn right then left, then up the very steep "Nant d'Enfer" path which takes you back to the starting point.
